QUESTION ONE – 50 Marks (500 words)

Discuss the role of industry and technology contexts in influencing entrepreneurial innovation. In your answer, explain how industry characteristics and technological developments shape entrepreneurial activities and opportunities. Furthermore, analyse how opportunities differ across various sectors due to differences in market conditions, technological requirements, and regulatory environments.

QUESTION TWO– 50 Marks (500 words)

Case Study

Yousef, an entrepreneur from Saudi Arabia, intends to start a sustainable food business with the support of his family and community. Jone, an entrepreneur from the United States, plans to establish a technology start-up in Silicon Valley that challenges traditional industries through innovation.

Drawing on the concepts of individualism and collectivism, explain how culture shapes entrepreneurial behaviour. Furthermore, evaluate the societal implications of these cultural differences with particular reference to innovation and risk-taking.

Question 1 (25 Marks)

Discuss how individualist and collectivist cultures differ in shaping entrepreneurial attitudes and behaviours. Use the experiences of Yousef and Jone to support your discussion.

Question 2 (25 Marks)

Discuss the effects of cultural differences on innovation and risk-taking. How do individualist and collectivist societies influence the type of innovation pursued and the willingness of entrepreneurs to take risks?

End of Questions – Good Luck
