Part I: (3 marks each term)

Write short paragraphs (50 words each) on four of the following terms and concepts. Provide clear examples.

a. Character
b. Fiction
c. Point of view
d. Irony
e. Symbolism

Part II: (18 marks)

Answer one of the following two questions in an essay of 200-250 words:

1. How does the ending of Tayeb Saleh's "A Handful of Dates" highlight the theme of maturity and growing up? Refer to the passage below to support your analysis.

I ran off into the distance. Hearing my grandfather call after me, I hesitated a little, then continued on my way. I felt at that moment that I hated him. Quickening my pace, it was as though I carried within me a secret I wanted to rid myself of. I reached the riverbank near the bend it made behind the wood of acacia trees. Then, without knowing why, I put my finger into my throat and spewed up the dates I'd eaten.

2. Discuss the theme of identity in Ghassan Kanafani's "Letter from Gaza," focusing on the narrator's feelings and struggles. Support your discussion with examples from the story.
