Studies have proven that fasting is good for patients with respiratory disease, especially those who complain of sleep apnea and nasal obstruction, but with one conditions that requires them not to overeat after fasting. In fact, the levels of fats, cholesterol, and triglycerides increase during the month of fasting and abstaining from food and drink. Also, the movement of fats from the mucous membrane of the respiratory system and the neck leads to a development in the breathing process for patients suffering from sleep apnea. While fasting has a good affect on patients suffering from chronic sinus infections and smokers, as smoking may affect the movement of the ciliary beats that clean mucus from the sinuses. Once smoke is stopped, the function of the ciliary beats in the sinuses becomes less active. For this reason, sinus patients improve during the month of Ramadan due to the decrease in the negative effect of smoking in the sinuses.

Most of this time Mr. Jones had spent sitting in the taproom of the Red Lion at Willingdon, complaining to anyone who would listen of the monstrous injustice he had suffered in being turned out of his property by a pack of good-for-nothing animals. The other farmers sympathised in principle, but they did not at first give him much help. At heart, each of them was secretly wondering whether he could not somehow turn Jones' misfortune to his own advantage. It was lucky that the owners of the two farms which adjoined Animal Farm were on permanently bad terms.

The big Eid lasts four days. Weeks before it, Grandfather buys a sheep and it is tethered to the iron railings on the balcony. Going to my grandfather's house becomes extra special: there is the sheep to ride and play with. But then, on the eve of the Eid, they tell me to say good-bye to the sheep. They tell me he is going back to his mother. He has enjoyed playing with me, but now it is time for him to go home. I go to sleep in a huge bed with springs and a feather quilt and when I wake up he has gone. I miss him. But I agree: a sheep should be with his mother.
